Energy Medicine

White Cloud Institute's Energy Medicine Certification Program is a two-year course of study. Coursework includes ancient healing methods and current scientific research. The program brings students closer to fulfilling their longing for contact with the spiritual world and to integrating that awareness into daily life. Healing becomes incidental to a greater understanding of life on this planet.

Students experience their own core healing abilities in order to reintroduce natural soul-level healing to their families and communities. Find more joy and vitality by evolving beyond a third-dimensional reality into a consciousness-based reality. This program teaches lifelong practices which enhance both health and connectedness to the universe.

Personal growth, essential to the development of healing, is an integral part of the program. Students experience the support and comraderie of the group as well as guidance in expressing their professional development. The program allows for surprises, deep introspection through journey work and meditation, and the discovery of our individual evolution and the contribution we each bring to the world. Along the way we learn to appreciate who we are and how we can bring more compassion into our lives.

Energy Medicine - Hawaii Campus

The White Cloud Energy Medicine program schedule is paced to allow each student's healership to evolve with practice and time to integrate new information. The foundational course, Energy Medicine I, is taught as a five-day intensive. Skills workshops are all offered on weekends. Online courses will be scheduled between the 3 yearly class meetings on Maui. Class descriptions follow.

Energy Medicine I

This course provides a foundation for understanding the Human Energy Field and strengthens your understanding of how our energetic bodies move through time and space to assist us in our relationships, our health and our spiritual evolution. This information may be applied to any healing modality and is essential in developing a healing plan. A combination of lecture, guided hands-on experience and research. You will learn; how to read an aura, about quantum physics and healing, long distance healing and prayer, the intricacies of the human energy field and its' relationship to health and disease, how to work with chakras and the levels of the human energy field, and to know what you are feeling. Students learn about healthy boundaries, how culture and beliefs affect healing, and what really is Healing? We will discuss the emerging archetypes of healing.

This is an invaluable course for developing a deeper understanding of your own energy and how to respond to clients. You will also learn how to receive clearer guidance and to refine your high sense perception.

Energy Medicine II

This course expands on the work completed in Energy Medicine I. Students are expected to have mastered level I skills and be ready to move into more advanced techniques of healing and meditation. This course will discuss, in more depth, the major models of healing, the hara dimension of the energy field, and the level of intention, and the pulse of creation. Curriculum includes advanced training in chakra clearing, and holding specific levels of the field for healing.

Skills Workshops

These two-day seminars are designed teach new techniques which will accelerate your healing practice. This is a time to come together and share insights and to receive new information about healing. Receive individual feedback from the instructor, and envision your unique model of healing for the world. Learn past life healing, organ restructuring, how to heal with sound and color, and trauma healing.

Between class meeting on Maui, you will be participating in regular an online courses with the instructor in order to keep up with your progress.

Projects and Case Studies

In the second year of the program, students choose a project to investigate for their healing work. There is also a case study, in which students will work for ten sessions with one client to deepen their skills in energy healing.

Location: Hale Ho'omana on the island of Maui.
